

4.6 Vocabulary: "Congress at Work- Making Laws"

Across

2. Type of calendar for bills having to do with revenues, appropriations, or government property
 6. A stalling tactic by which a minority of senators seeks to delay or prevent Senate action
 12. A proposed law presented to Congress for consideration
 13. A provision not likely to pass on its own merit that is attached to an important measure certain to pass
 14. A majority of the full membership must be present in order for the House to do business
 15. Type of calendar for all private bills
 16. Where one bill contains numerous issues and topics

17. This person stalled by reading recipes from the Washington telephone directory for more than 15 hours
 18. Type of calendar for all other public bills
 20. Allows members to force a bill for consideration that has been in committee for 30 days
 21. A type of veto used when the chief executive does not sign or eject the bill within the time allowed to do so
Down
 1. When a bill is printed in its final form
 3. Type of calendar for petitions to discharge bills from committee
 4. Type of calendar for all bills from the Union of the House Calendar taken out of order by unanimous consent

5. Bills that deals with a position on matters in which both the House and Senate act jointly
 7. Most of the bills introduced in Congress are buried, put away, or simply never acted upon
 8. Bills that often deal with unusual or temporary matters
 9. Deal with matters concerning either house individually and are taken up only by that body
 10. Limiting debate
 11. This person set the current filibuster record for 24 hours and 18 minutes stall against the Civil Rights Act of 1957
 19. Refusal to sign