

ANTI D & Sara Wickham Crossword

Across

- 3. If presence of antibodies in a women blood, suggestes she has been exposed to RhS positive blood and has therefore resulted in her becoming ...
- 6. A RhS Neg Women should be given Anti D immediately or within _ hours of birth.
- 12. what is the cost of one Anti D injection in BPS?
- 14. Can you name the one of the Anti D brands? R.....
- 15. In 20_ saw the publication of the latest Anti D update
- 16. IgG antibodies are about 6 times smaller than what antibodies?
- 21. How many international Units of Anti D is administered at the specified gestation?
- 23. In the UK, how many thousand women are offered anti D a year?
- 24. Anti D is given after a spontaneous _____ to prevent RhS alloimmunisation
- 25. In the event of a sensitising event when would you give 500 IU? > _ weeks

26. Can you name the test RhS Neg women are offered to determine their baby's blood group?

Down

- 1. What rare risk does Anti D carry?
- 2. the chance of having a _____ sensitisation is very low
- 4. If a sensitising event ocured at less than 20 weeks how many international unit would you administer?
- 5. Anti D is a product of what?
- 7. Anti D is a _____ as its administered to prevent disease
- 8. In which trimester are 18 -27% of RhS Neg at risk of becoming sensitised due to small feto maternal haemorrhages that go undetected?
- 9. At what gestation is Anti D administered?
- 10. which antibody is small enough to cross the placenta?
- 11. which religion may decline Anti D administration?
- 13. When was the first Cochrane review of the research relating to the administration of Anti D undertaken?

17. A transplacental bleed of > _ mls, an extra 100-125 IU per ml of fetal red cell?

- 18. What is the screening test called for a larger than normalfetomaternal haemorrhage?
- 19. Anti D is administered by an injection, via what site?
- 20. Time magazine chose Anti D as one of the top _ medical achievements of the 1960s
- 22. Who does not directly physically benefit from the administration of Anti D?