

Abnormal Psychology

Across

3. Which approach believes that anxiety disorders come from underlying intrapsychic conflicts or fears and internalized anger?
4. Psychopaths or sociopaths are associated with which personality disorder?
7. What is a chronic, inflexible, maladaptive pattern of perceiving, thinking or behaving?
11. What can occur in response to several different types of objects or situations, such as heights, snakes, or flying?
13. What arises in anticipation of a public situation in which an individual can be observed by others?
14. What is characterized by persistent, uncontrollable, and ongoing apprehension on a wide range of life situations?
15. This consists of long lasting pattern of traits relating to perfectionism or control (Not the same as OCD).

17. What is the irrational anxiety that is provoked by nonexistent or exaggerated threats?

18. What is the irrational fear and avoidance of public places?

19. What is characterized by sudden episodes of extreme anxiety?

20. Which group of personality disorder display dramatic, emotional or erratic behavior?

Down

1. What is an excessive, persistent, and irrational fear of a specific object, activity, or situation that is normally considered harmless?

2. Which disorder is characterized by the need for undeserved admiration and praise?

5. Anxiety disorders are associated with lower-than-normal levels of which inhibitory neurotransmitter?

6. Do people with a personality disorder function good or bad in society?

8. Which personality disorder shows detachment from and or not interested in the forming of social relationships, including family?

9. People with personality disorders are maladaptive and _____ across a broad range of situations.

10. People with this disorder are extremely shy and anxious in social situations due to fear of rejection or being evaluated negatively.

12. The sense of apprehension or doom that is accompanied by physiological symptoms such as tightness in stomach, increased heart rate, and sweaty palms.

16. This behavior is marked by social isolation and the presence of beliefs, speech and behaviors that are old magical (Most like schizophrenia).