

About Drugs

Across

9. What is CNS?

11. Usually found in ordinary household chemical products and anesthetics such examples are rugby and acetone.

12. Is the use of a substance for non-medical purposes.

Down

1. A type of drugs that relieves pain and induces sleepiness.

2. What is DDB?

3. Is the condition of the body to adapt the effects of the substances to the body.

4. One example of gateway drugs is _____.

5. A type of drug that slows down a person's central nervous system.

6. A type of drug that speeds up a person's central nervous system.

7. Are any substances or chemicals which when taken into the body have psychological, emotional and behavioral effects on a person.

8. A type of drugs which distorts reality and facts also derived from the word "hallucination".

10. Another example of gateway drugs is _____.