

Name: _____ Date: _____

Access Module 6 Vocabulary

- | | |
|---|-------------------------|
| 1. The table or query that defines the fields and records displayed in a form or report. | A. record source |
| 2. The table or query that defines the fields and records displayed in a form or report. | B. concatenate |
| 3. A report section that appears after each group of records that share the same sort field value, and that usually displays subtotals or counts for the records in that group. | C. control source |
| 4. The data source for a control. | D. error indicator |
| 5. A control that displays data that is calculated from other data, such as a total. | E. binding |
| 6. A control used to display data that comes from (and is bound to) the database, such as an account number and name. | F. bound control |
| 7. The process of converting an unbound control to a bound control. | G. ampersand |
| 8. To combine two or more text data items into a single expression. | H. group footer section |
| 9. An operator (&) used to concatenate two or more data items into a single expression. | I. alternate color |
| 10. A button that appears to signal a problem, such as a report being too wide for the specified page size. | J. calculated control |
| 11. A color different from the main color that appears on every other line in a datasheet or report. | K. group header section |