

Adrenal Gland Pathology

Across

4. Pheochromocytoma is associated with high _____
10. Too little hormone
12. Will produce early or inappropriate masculine features
13. Addison's Disease is associated with low _____ hormones
14. Should a biopsy be performed if a patient has or is suspected to have pheochromocytoma
15. Headache, excessive sweating, and increased heart rate that subsides in less than an hour are the _____ common symptoms of pheochromocytoma

16. Cushing syndrome is defined as the _____ of body fat

Down

1. Low blood pressure, dehydration, and weight loss are all considered _____ of Addison's Disease
2. Adrenal gland failure due to adrenal hemorrhage caused by severe infection. This is which syndrome?
3. Cushing's, Conn's Syndrome, and Androgenital Syndrome cause:
5. Symptoms are related to fight or flight response

6. Buffalo hump and swollen or moon face are another name for which syndrome

7. Conn's Disease causes an increase in:
8. Too much hormone
9. Addison's Disease and Waterhouse-Freiderichsen Syndrome cause:
11. Which syndrome results in an increase in sodium, water retention, and potassium excretion