

Name: _____

Date: _____

Agriculture Importance to Society

Across

2. Has been milled
 3. The solid & liquid material humans consume that provides essential nutrients
 4. Goods sold to or in another country
 5. The meat of swine
 12. Shed its leaves in the winter
 14. Strong likes
 18. Oily compounds consisting of carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen
 19. Macromolecules consisting of amino acids held together by peptide bonds
 20. Housing for humans
 22. Long-established ways of doing things
 23. The people who purchase products or services to fulfill certain needs

24. Meat from a sheep that is at least one year old
 26. The income of people and the products available to them
 29. The production of aquatic plants and animals for food
 30. Fats that are solid at room temp.

Down

1. Macromolecules containing carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen
 6. The science of planting, caring for, and harvesting trees
 7. Substances necessary for an organism to live and grow
 8. The science of planting, caring for, and harvesting trees
 9. Meat from cattle
 10. Organic compounds used by the body to carry out specific functions

11. The nature of the weather
 13. Fats that are liquids at room temp.
 15. Goods sold to or in another country
 16. The natural or artificial drying of lumber
 17. A shrub-like perennial plant cultivated as an annual
 21. Meat from a sheep that is less than a year old
 25. The ___ human needs are food, fiber, and shelter
 27. Products bought from another nation
 28. Small pieces of wood that are cooked in a chemical bath