

And Then There Were None

Across

- 1. ill will or evil intentions
- 3. Very pleasant to the taste
- 8. Filled to capacity;
abundantly supplied
- 9. Overly submissive
- 10. Mournful and expressing sorrow
- 11. Nonessential, but conducive to pleasure and comfort

Down

- 2. Secret; clandestine; stealthy
- 4. Sameness
- 5. To consider for a long time at a slow pace; ponder
- 6. Forcefully expressing emotion or conviction
- 7. Unable to move or act;
sluggish