

Aneira Davis 3.05

Across

6. the deepest layer of the five layers of the epidermis

7. situated or applied under the skin.

8. Hair loss from the scalp or elsewhere on the body.

11. An inflammation of the blood vessels that causes changes in the blood vessel walls.

12. A group of inherited disorders characterized by little or no melanin production.

13. A fatty lump most often situated between the skin and underlying muscle layer.

14. microscopic exocrine glands in the skin that secrete an oily or waxy matter

15. A dangerously overheated body, usually in response to prolonged, hot, humid weather.

Down

1. A liver condition that causes yellowing of a newborn baby's skin and eyes.

2. blue green bacteria

3. the uppermost layer of the dermis

4. The technical term for our skin.

5. a medical practitioner qualified to diagnose and treat skin disorders.

9. a thin sheath of fibrous tissue enclosing a muscle or other organ.

10. a tumor of melanin-forming cells, typically a malignant tumor associated with skin cancer.