

Approaches

Across

4. What type of reinforcement is given when you are trying to avoid or remove something unpleasant when a behaviour is performed?
 8. What is the social learning theory?
 10. What is the name of the dog in the classical conditioning theory?
 12. What is the unconditioned response in the Pavlov's dogs experiment?
 14. Important Feature in Classical Conditioning
 15. How many parts are there in the Mediation Processes?

17. Cognitive framework that helps to organise and interpret information in the brain.

18. What is the unconditioned stimulus in the Pavlov's dogs experiment?
 19. What is anything, internal or external, that brings about a response?
 20. Can be a person or action portrayed in some other medium, such as a TV

Down

1. What is the Neutral Stimulus in the Pavlov's dogs experiment?
 2. What name is given for learning through reinforcement?
 3. Important Feature in Classical Conditioning

5. What type of reinforcement is given when you receive something pleasant when a correct behaviour is performed?
 6. What name is given for learning through association?
 7. An actual person demonstrating the behaviour
 9. Important Feature in Classical Conditioning
 11. Important Feature in Classical Conditioning
 13. What type of experiment was the Pavlov Dogs experiment?
 16. What name is given to a reaction to a specific stimulus e.g. saliva when you see food?

Word Bank

Extinction	StimulusGeneralisation	SpontaneousRecovery	Laboratory
Positive	Schema	ClassicalConditioning	Timing
LiveModel	Four	Saliva	LearningThroughObserving
OperantConditioning	Stimulus	Negative	SymbolicModel
Food	Pavlov	Response	Tone