Name:	Date:
-------	-------

Business Finance

Across

- 1. make (something needed or wanted) available to someone; provide
- 3. the desire of purchasers, consumers, clients, employers, etc., for a particular commodity, service, or other item.
- 6. a financial gain, especially the difference between the amount earned and the amount spent in buying, operating, or producing something.
- 10. one of the equal parts into which a company's capital is divided, entitling the holder to a proportion of the profits.
- 11. an amount of money owed for goods supplied or services rendered, set out in a printed or written statement of charges. 12. something, typically money, that is
- owed or due

- 13. a quantity by which amounts differ; the remainder left after subtraction of one value from another.
- 14. The total revenue in an accounting period minus all expenses during the same
- 15. (of income, profit, or interest) without deduction of tax or other contributions; total.
- 18. money paid regularly at a particular rate for the use of money lent, or for delaying the repayment of a debt.
- 19. a situation involving exposure to danger.

2. wealth in the form of money or other assets owned by a person or organization or available or contributed for a particular purpose such as starting a company or investing.

- 4. a list of goods sent or services provided, with a statement of the sum due for these; a bill.
- 5. (of an object or an action) require the payment of (a specified sum of money) before it can be acquired or done.
- 7. the worth of something compared to the price paid or asked for it
- 8. an estimate of income and expenditure for a set period of time.
- 9. (of a bank or other financial organization) remove (an amount of money) from a customer's account, typically as payment for services or goods.
- 16. -the sale of goods to the public in relatively small quantities for use or consumption rather than for resale.
- 17. the capital raised by a business or corporation through the issue and subscription of shares.