Business Math Crossword

Across
1. These have the exact same denominators
4. This is the average of a set of numbers
8. These have different denominators
10. This divides the two worlds; whole numbers and the decimal world
11. Regrouping or reorganizing the foundation of the problem
12. A number consisting of a whole number and a proper fraction

13. An acronym to help remember the order of operations
14. The numerator is greater than (or equal to) the denominator
15. This changes from unit to unit
Down
2. To take a number of quantity and expand that number
3. To put upside down or in the opposite position

5. The value that appears most often in a set of data
6. this is a formula that helps you figure out more complicated percentage problems
7. This is less than one, with the numerator less than the denominator
9. This is separate or will separated into parts