

CH 10 Vocab

Across

- 3. Legislation and regulations to limit suburban sprawl and preserve farmland.
4. An increase in the percentage and in the number of people living in urban settlements.
5. a strip of vegetation that connects parks or neighborhoods: often located among rivers, streams, or canals
9. an integrated software package for handling, processing, and analyzing geographical data and computer database in which every item of information is tied to a precise geographic location
10. An area in which the air temperature is generally higher than the temperature of surrounding rural areas.

11. Geographical boundaries placed around a city to limit suburban growth within that city.

13. Development of new housing sites at relatively low density and at locations that are not contiguous to the existing built-up area.

14. Fundamental facilities and systems serving a country, city, or area, as transportation and communication systems, power plants, and schools
15. The vegetation and manufactured structures that cover land

Down

1. the process of repairing damage caused by humans to the biodiversity and dynamics of natural ecosystems

2. A dense core of census tracts, densely settled suburbs, and low-density land that links the dense suburbs with the core

6. The effort on the part of the city to coordinate, direct and control the type of development taking place, so as to ensure maximum benefits to the populace.

7. land cover Various ways humans use the land such as agricultural, industrial, residential, or recreational

8. dividing an area into zones or sections reserved for different purposes such as residence and business and manufacturing etc

12. an area of small towns or farms