

Name: _____ Date: _____

CT301 Exam Review

Across

2. Maneuver that can help fill the piriform sinus with air
3. Intracranial Hemorrhages appear ____ for 3 days
6. Anterior bone found at the level of C3
9. The use of 2 oral contrasts in CTC is called ____
12. During what phase of enhancement are Routine Chest CTs done?
16. Indications to do a CTA COW include AVMs and ____
18. Top boundary of the scan region for a Liver

19. For facial bones, the scan should go from just above frontal sinus to below ____

20. Medication that may be given to relieve cramping during a CTC

Down

1. Muscle that elevates the mandible
4. Oral contrast used to evaluate pancreatic pathology
5. IV contrast may be given for extremity CTs to look for ____
7. IV contrast is ____ when a stroke is suspected

8. The accidental injection of an irritant into the tissue surrounding an IV site

10. Has a Scan region of Diaphragm to L3

11. Area of pharynx from Base of skull to soft palate

13. Lab value used to screen for PEs

14. Name for a patient body position that a wrist might be scanned in

15. One advantage of CTC over conventional methods is there is less chance of ____

17. Scan from C7 to below ____ for a trauma Chest CT