

Name: _____

Date: _____

Ch(3)/Students are to Reference pages 125-136/Earthquake OR Volcano/What TYPE of destruction is it

Across

4. What are those unbroken shells of rock and individual things that float like rafts called

6. What rocks are made up of layers like the leaves called

7. What are fragments that are smaller than bombs, but built larger than volcanic ash called

8. What is the boundary between the crust and the mantle called:

10. What is a weak earthquake called that may be felt as a slight vibration

11. What are holes or cracks called that serve as escape vents for underground gases called

12. What lies beneath the innermost region of the earth region of the earth

13. What is a weak spot that forms a large reservoir in the earth's crust called

Down

1. What happens when natural acids slowly eat into a rock and break it a part called

2. What is a crumbly rock which consists of particles of quartz and sand called

3. Fragments that are more than 2 1/2 inches across are called what

5. What is the nickname for the circum-pacific earthquake called

9. What is a vent called that allows molten rock and hot gases to escape from within the earth called