

Chapter 10

Across

2. governing principle of the super ego, which sets moral standards and enforces adherence to them
3. hypothesized mental structure that helps explain different aspects of behavior
9. personal predictions about the outcomes of potential behaviors
13. relatively stable aspect of personality that is inferred from behavior and assumed to give rise to consistent behavior
14. In interpersonal attraction, the tendency to return feelings and attitudes that are expressed about us
16. symbolize or represent
17. the cultural prohibition against marrying or having sexual relations with a close blood relative
21. arrested development; attachment to objects of an earlier stage
23. knowledge and skills
25. the unconscious adoption of another person's behavior
30. the capacity to perceive one's environment and oneself according to accurate sensory impressions
31. the second psychic structure to develop, characterized by self-awareness, planning, and delay of gratification

33. a cluster of behaviors that characterizes traditional female or male behaviors within a cultural setting

34. exhibiting behaviors that others will imitate or acquire through observable learning

35. the philosophy and school of psychology that asserts that people are conscious, self-aware, and capable of free choice, self-fulfillment, and ethical behavior

36. a fixed, conventional idea about a group

Down

1. a tendency to answer test items according to a bias
4. a mental image of what we believe we ought to be
5. a pledge or obligation; stable investment in one's goals, beliefs, or values
6. a personality trait characterized largely by persistent anxiety; Eysenck's term for emotional instability
7. the third psychic structure, which functions as a moral guardian and sets forth high standards for behavior
8. a trait characterized by tendencies to direct one's interests inward and to inhibit impulses
10. a person who defines themselves in terms of personal traits and gives priority to their goals
11. the view that people are completely free and responsible for their own behavior

12. a sexual dysfunction characterized by persistent or recurrent pain during sexual intercourse

15. the psychic structure, present at birth, that represents physiological drives and is fully unconscious

18. The culturally defined concepts of masculinity and femininity; the psychological state of being male or female

19. transferred

20. a chemical secretion detected by other members of the same species that stimulates a certain kind of behavior

22. basic, primitive images or concepts hypothesized by Jung to reside in the collective unconscious

24. a trait characterized by tendencies to be socially outgoing and to express feelings and impulses freely

26. descriptive of ideas and feelings that are not available to awareness

27. muscle tension

28. The energy of Eros; the sexual instinct. Generally, sexual interest or drive

29. A firm sense of who one is and what one stands for

32. The basic instinct to preserve and perpetuate life