

Chapter 10 Human Diversity

Across

- 2. designating any of the basic groups or divisions of humankind or of a heterogeneous population, as distinguished by customs, characteristics, language, and common history, national origin
6. population that differs from others in the relative frequency of some gene or genes
9. belief in a divine or superhuman power or powers, to be obeyed and worshipped as the creator and ruler of the universe
11. fact or quality of being diverse
12. differing from one another, made up of distinct characteristics, qualities or elements.
14. irrational fear of and hostility toward homosexuality

- 15. actions involved in the unequal or prejudicial treatment of people because they belong to a certain category, group, or race.
16. of or relating to culture
17. tendency toward viewing the norms and values of the individuals own culture as absolute and using them as a standard against which all other cultures are measured.

Down

- 1. capacity to perform cognitive and psychomotor tasks
3. process by which people of diverse backgrounds slowly give up their original cultural language and identity and melt into another, usually larger group
4. chromosomal designation of female or male being

- 5. all of the socially transmitted behavior patterns, arts, beliefs, institutions, and all other products of human work and thoughts by particular classes, communities, or populations.
7. being able to negotiate two or more different cultures competently, individual and mainstream
8. belief in racial superiority; leading to discrimination and prejudice toward races considered inferior
10. prejudice; thinking negatively of others without any or significant justification; generally a combination of stereotyped beliefs and negative attitudes
13. ethnic affiliation or classification