

Chapter 10

Across

3. A highly addictive substance made from the sap of the opium poppy.
7. Neurotransmitters that help relieve pain and reduce emotional tension.
8. The brain and body's need for even larger doses of a drug.
9. Any beverage containing ethyl.
10. Addictive sedative-hypnotic drug that reduces anxiety and help people sleep.

Down

1. Most addictive substance derived from opium.
2. Happens when people usually take a drug and stop.
4. Also called a psychedelic drug.
5. Derived from opium and used for pain relief.
6. Opium or any of the drugs derived from opium, including morphine, heroin, and codeine.