

Chapter 11 Crossword

Across

- 2. Children describe themselves in terms of individual, unconnected characteristics and all-or-nothing terms.
- 7. Self one would like to be.
- 11. Children learn gender roles through socialization.
- 12. Preconceived generalizations about male or female role behavior.
- 14. Self one actually is.
- 15. Children socialize themselves in their gender roles by developing a mentally organized network of information about what it means to be male or female in a particular culture.

- 16. Motivation to help others without expectation of reward.

- 17. Awareness that one will always be male or female.

Down

- 1. Cluster of characteristics used to describe oneself.
- 3. Voluntary behavior intended to help others.
- 4. Judgment a person makes about his or her self-worth
- 5. Socialization process whereby children learn appropriate gender roles.
- 6. Aggressive behavior used as a means of achieving a goal.

- 8. Awareness that one is male or female.

- 9. Tendency to select playmates of one's own gender.

- 10. Behaviors, interests, attitudes, skills, and traits that a culture considers appropriate.

- 13. Sense of self; descriptive and evaluative mental picture of one's abilities and traits.