

Name: _____

Date: _____

Chapter 15

- | | |
|--|-----------------------|
| 1. Hidden. | A. ileostomy |
| 2. Surgical creation of an opening from an area inside the body to the outside. | B. peristalsis |
| 3. An artificial opening in the body. | C. homeostasis |
| 4. The condition in which all of the body's systems are balanced and are working at their best. | D. colon |
| 5. Surgically created opening through the abdominal wall into the large intestine to allow feces to be expelled. | E. fecal incontinence |
| 6. Solid body waste excreted through the anus from the large intestine; also called stool. | F. stoma |
| 7. Muscular contractions that push food through the gastrointestinal tract. | G. feces |
| 8. Surgically created opening into the end of the small intestine, the ileum, to allow feces to be expelled. | H. occult |
| 9. The large intestine. | I. colostomy |
| 10. Surgical creation of an opening for the passage of urine. | J. urostomy |
| 11. An inability to control the muscles of the bowels, which leads to an involuntary passage of stool or gas. | K. ostomy |