

Name: _____

Date: _____

Chapter 15: Physical and Cognitive Development in Late Adulthood

Across

7. Damage to the optic nerve because of the pressure created by a build up of fluid in the eye.

8. The retention of information about the where and when of life's happening.

9. The view that natural selection has eliminated many harmful conditions and nonadaptive characteristics in older adults.

10. A global term for any neurological disorder in which the primary symptoms involve a deterioration of mental functioning.

13. Inflammation of the joints that is accompanied by pain, stiffness, and movement problems.

Down

1. A person's knowledge about the world, including expertise.

2. A progressive, irreversible brain disorder characterized by a gradual deterioration of memory, reasoning, and language.

3. A chronic, progressive disease characterized by muscle tremors, slowing of movement, and partial facial paralysis.

4. Memory of facts and experiences that individuals consciously know and can state.

5. The maximum number of years an individual can live.

6. Memory without conscious recollection; involves skills and routine procedures that are automatically performed.

11. Involve a thickening of the lens of the eye that causes vision to become cloudy and distorted.

12. Expert knowledge about the practical aspects of life that permits excellent judgement about important matters.