

Chapter 19 Support and Movement

Across

- 4. muscles you can control
- 7. bands of connective tissue that connect muscles to joints
- 12. The outer layer of skin that is made of epithelial tissues
- 14. The inner, thicker layer of the skin mostly made of connective tissues
- 15. a dark pigment that colors peoples skin
- 16. striations that appear to move

Down

- 1. marrow cavities and spongy bone thats filled with this
- 2. layer of the skin that is not really part of the skin and is below the dermis
- 3. Muscles that you cannot control
- 5. a type of connective tissue that is more softer and flexible than bone
- 6. muscles that don"t have strations

- 8. muscles that move your skeleton
- 9. flexible bands of connective tissues that attach bones to other bones
- 10. Like the heart this muscle is striated and involuntary
- 11. a connective tissue that consists of living bone cells and nonliving material
- 13. the living bone cells found between the layers