

Chapter 1 & Statistics Crossword

Across

2. unit within a crime lab that conducts drug analysis
 5. acronym for all points bulletin
 7. conducted the first definitive study of fingerprints and their classifications
 11. the difference between the largest and smallest values
 12. _____ formulated the principle that every contact leaves a trace
 13. location of the largest crime lab

14. the number that occurs most frequently
 15. a branch of science involved in forensics
 16. the type of statistics that provides a way to summarize and explain data
 17. author of the forensic science textbook
 18. the type of statistics that attempts to make an inference about data.

Down

1. the oldest crime lab is located in _____

3. the type of broadcast system used to alert the public of a missing child
 4. The father of toxicology
 6. the fictional character that popularized physical detection methods
 8. computed as the average squared deviation of each number from its mean
 9. unit within a crime lab that examines handwriting
 10. the earliest records of forensic investigation was in _____