

Chapter 22 Male Reproductive

Across

- 3. male sex hormones (textbook pg. 839)
- 8. undifferentiated spermatogenic cells (textbook pg. 830)
- 11. a common cancer in men (textbook pg. 829)
- 14. stimulates the testes to descend (textbook pg. 827)
- 15. give rise to the sperm cells (textbook pg. 829)
- 16. enclosed by muscle fibers of the urogenital diaphragm (textbook pg. 834)
- 17. combined processes of meiosis and spermiogenesis (textbook pg. 830)

- 18. a chestnut-shaped structure that surrounds the urethra (textbook pg. 834)
- 19. course posteriorly and unite to form rete testis (textbook pg. 829)
- 20. suspends the testis in the scrotum (textbook pg. 829)

Down

- 1. testis descends through (textbook pg. 829)
- 2. development of spermatids into sperm (textbook pg. 830)
- 4. tough, whit, fibrous capsule (textbook pg. 829)
- 5. stimulates the cells of organs (textbook pg. 839)

- 6. lie between the seminiferous tubules (textbook pg. 829)
- 7. narrow, tightly coiled tubes (textbook pg. 831)
- 9. convoluted, saclike structures attached to the ductus deferens (textbook pg. 834)
- 10. a fibrous cord attached to testis (textbook pg. 827)
- 12. small caplike covering over the head (textbook pg. 830)
- 13. primary sex organs (textbook pg. 827)