

Chapter 3

Across

- 2. Distress experienced by a child when separated from a caregiver
- 8. Learning socially accepted attitudes, values, and beliefs
- 10. The strong emotional bond a young child forms with a primary caregiver
- 12. Any disease, drug, or noxious agent that can cause abnormalities
- 14. Combination of parental responsiveness and parent control

- 15. Changes that transform a fertilized egg into a newborn baby

Down

- 1. Social development occurs in stages marked by a crisis or conflict
- 3. Changes that occur between conception and death
- 4. Abnormalities that can result when large quantities of alcohol are consumed during pregnancy
- 5. Sense of personal identification with a particular ethnic group

- 6. Progressive deterioration of the body

- 7. Distress experienced by a child when approached by someone unfamiliar
- 9. The process through which knowledge is acquired and problems are solved
- 11. Source of strength and comfort that provides meaning, hope, and purpose
- 13. Progressive and irreversible disorder that causes memory loss