

Name: _____

Date: _____

Chapter 4 Key Terms

Across

2. A reference to the location of a file
 3. An electronic device that increases the efficiency of a network system
 5. A network that makes certain kinds of information
 6. Hardware or software that allows for communication
 7. Is a computer that is accessible over a network
 13. A protocol in the recipients communications software
 15. A spreadsheet or database grid

16. An electronic device used in a local area network

17. A type of server that allows multiple users to share the same printer
 18. The part of a network that identifies it as a particular domain
 19. A set of codes to used to create pages for the World Wide Web
 20. A wide area network operated and maintained

Down

1. A law that prohibits people from taking action to break down software encryption

4. A new and improved Web Language

8. A type of server that enables users to access programs
 9. A type of wire that consists of an insulated center wire
 10. Is the last part of domain name
 11. A method for accessing the Internet
 12. A special type of server that holds e-mail messages
 14. A desktop computer or workstation that is capable of obtaining information