

Chapter 5 Integumentary System

Across

2. physician who specializes in the study of the skin
 3. the external covering of the body
 9. pigmented, elevated spot above the surface of the skin
 12. contagious viral disease characterized by fever, headache, and a crop of red spots
 14. mark left by healing process of a sore, injury, or wound
 15. nourishes epidermis, provides strength and supports blood vessels
 16. covering, the skin

19. injury where skin is torn by animal or insect is called a
 20. pertaining to under the skin

Down

1. injury to soft tissue caused by trauma usually classified as closed or open
 4. chronic inflammatory skin disorder characterized by scales, crusts, or scabs
 5. is inflammation of the skin
 6. is a painful nodule formed in the subcutaneous layers of the skin, gland or hair follicle
 7. the outer layer of skin

8. injury to tissue caused by fire, radiation, or heat is called a
 10. is an inflammatory condition of the hair follicles and sebaceous glands
 11. obtaining a small piece of living tissue for microscopic examination
 13. the skin, whites of eyes, and mucous membranes are yellow
 17. protects ends of fingers and toes
 18. provides sensation and some protection for the head