

Name: _____

Date: _____

Chapter 7 Endocrine System

Across

3. protrusion of one or more eyeballs because of thyroid dysfunction
 4. hormone that regulates immune response
 6. drug that lowers the blood glucose level
 7. measurement of the level of sugar(glucose) in the blood
 9. ket/o
 10. excessive urination
 14. pancreat/o
 19. aden/o
 21. any of several agents used to control blood glucose levels in treatment of diabetes mellitus
 22. removal of the pancreas
 24. hormone that stimulates from the thyroid gland

25. hormone that stimulates secretion from thyroid gland
 27. posterior lobe of the pituitary gland
 28. hypersecretion of thyroid glands
 29. hormone that influences growth
 30. treatment with a hormone to correct a hormonal deficiency

Down

1. hormone that regulates calcium and phosphorus metabolism
 2. hormone that affects pigmentation
 5. an abnormally high level of potassium in the blood
 8. CT of the head is used to obtain only a transverse view of the pituitary gland
 11. sonographic images are used to identify endocrine pathology
 12. abnormally decreased secretion

13. hormon/o
 15. excessive thirst
 16. located in the mediastinum
 17. removal of one or both adrenal glands
 18. removal of the thymus
 20. an abnormally high level of calcium in the blood
 23. located on both sides within the scrotum
 26. enlargement of the thyroid caused by thyroid dysfunction, tumor or lack of iodine