Chapter 8 Insurance Function

Across

5. an insurance company mathematician who compiles stats of loss, develops insurance rates, calcs dividents, and evaluates the financial standing of an insurance company

8. a transaction in which 1 insurance company obtains insurance from another to protect itself against losses it has sustained under policies it has issued

9. other largest reinsurance company

10. _____ reinsurance is the primary insurer and the reinsurer proportionally divide the losses, premiums, and expenses

Down

1. agents have _____ duties of loyalty, care, and to obey instructions

2. independent contractors who represent multiple insurers

3. uses agents who only represent one insurer

4. a legal representative of the applicant for insurance

6. one of the largest reinsurance company

7. person authorized to act for another, known as the principle