

Name: _____

Date: _____

Chapter one puzzle

Across

1. The study of that stimuli, and responses, and rewards influence behavior.
7. The normal patterns of development that most people go through.
12. When a group of children or a family has the same teacher for multiple years at a time.

Down

2. The development of reasoning, problem solving, and language.

3. A theory that predicts that cultural values, beliefs, and concepts are passed from one generation to the next.
4. When a large group of kids are examined to see what the average expectation should be.
5. The theory that infants need to have a personal connection to their primary caregiver.
6. When grouping children of different ages.

8. The development of interactions with peers, elders, and others.
9. The development of feelings, confidence, and self-perception.
10. Specific behaviors that are used to track development in a certain area.
11. The development of weight, height, and brain development.