College Application Terms by M. Sacia 3

Across

5. colleges issue "acceptances", "denials", and these
6. this is awarded when a student completes their four-year college or university coursework and requirements
7. Students can get these jobs on campus and the U.S. federal government helps pay their work study salary
9. These are typically schools that offer two-year degrees in specific employment preparation skills such as computer technology, culinary arts, and health care.
10. Each college has a different code number for these

Down

1. unlike subsidized loans, the government does not supplement interest accrued during college
2. if an applicant qualifies based on FAFSA information, the U.S. government pays for any interest accrued during college and gives a loan grace period after college graduation
3. one of these includes an extra point on a 4.0-point scale for honors and advanced placement classes. Using the second one of these, and "A" is worth a 4.0 and a "B" is worth a 3.0.
4. these primarily offer degrees in undergraduate and graduate programs that focus on fine arts
8. this includes information about the student's class rank, GPA, academic courses, attendance rate, and any discipline incidents.
