Communication

Across
1. A challenge is writing out your thoughts is that the __________ can not ask what you meant.
4. An advantage of writing out your thoughts is being able to make changes ______ sending.
7. An example of nonverbal communication is a __________.
9. Three parts of all communication: __________, receiver and message.

12. __________ is having a sense of what to do or say to avoid offending others.
13. The better you communicate, the stronger your ________ are likely to be.
14. Use body __________ to show you are listening carefully.

Down
2. __________ is an exchange of information through the use of words or actions.
3. In __________ communication, you get your message across without using words.
5. When speaking, make clear ________ statements and be specific.
6. Body language sends messages by posture, __________, and facial expressions.
8. Careful __________ is necessary for effective communication.
10. When speaking use __________ when you express ideas or give suggestions.
11. True or False: Verbal communication is the kind of communication people use least.