

Name: _____

Date: _____

Dental Terminology

Across

2. the _____ is the functional unit of tissue that supports the teeth

5. attaches the cheek and lips to the max. and man. mucosa

8. tip of a root

10. proximal surface of man. posterior teeth

11. the cervical line is also referred to as

14. area between two teeth that can't be seen but can be reached with a probe

16. buccal triangular ridge + lingual triangular ridge

17. portion of the tooth visible in the mouth

18. divides the arches into left and right

19. towards the crown of a tooth

Down

1. developmental grooves are also known as

3. enamel extensions on an incisal edge

4. midline ridge of tissue on the hard palate

6. pad of tissue just behind the last tooth on the man. arch

7. named for their location in relation to the contact area

9. when a tooth replaces another tooth it is

12. _____ fibers exist in the cervical area

13. opening at the apex of a root

15. _____ fibers exist in the root area