

Name: _____ Date: _____

Dentistry Crossword

Across

8. The most common oral tumor in cats (9)
 10. The surface of a mandibular or maxillary tooth facing the tongue (5)
 11. Another name for calculus (4)
 12. The treatment and therapy of conditions affecting the pulp (3)
 13. The Apex of the tooth in canines and felines is _____ in an adult (6)
 15. This stage of periodontal disease is reversible (1)
 16. Another name for the lingual surface of a maxillary tooth (5)
 19. This ligament holds the tooth in place by attaching the tooth to the gums (1)

20. 409 is the permanent first right mandibular molar according to the modified _____ tooth numbering system (5)

Down

1. Salivary calcium and other minerals transform plaque into this (2)
 2. The treatment of choice for a cat tooth with crown resorption and no evidence of root resorption (6)
 3. A fracture in which the pulp cavity is NOT exposed is considered this type of fracture (11)
 4. A fracture in which the pulp cavity is NOT exposed is considered this type of fracture (11)
 5. The medical term for "bad breath" (7)

6. Full mouth extractions are often recommended for cats with this disease (6)
 7. The most common oral tumor in dogs (10)
 9. The periodontum consists of the gingiva, alveolar bone, the periodontal ligament and the _____ (8)
 14. In order to benefit, teeth need to be brushed at least this often (3)
 17. Descriptive terms to use for common dental procedures to prevent periodontitis in companion animal dentistry are COPAT, COHAT, and an oral _____ visit (3)
 18. The total number of teeth an adult cat has (7)