

Digestive System

Across

3. Includes tongue, teeth, and jaw, part of the digestion system

8. All the unused materials turn into this

10. To crush food with your teeth

11. Contains blood and lymph vessels that absorb nutrients

12. Aids in chewing, speaking, and tasting

13. This system includes the mouth, esophagus, stomach, and the small and large intestine

14. Makes fluid that breaks down materials found in food

15. Makes and releases bile

Down

1. The digestive system makes these for the body to absorb

2. The process which large molecules are broken down into smaller molecules, so they can pass through the bloodstream

4. The breaking crushing and mashing of food

5. After food moves through the small intestine it comes to this organ

6. Last section of the large intestine

7. The pancreas, liver, and thus, absorb nutrients

9. Feeds off undigested food in the large intestine