

Diseases/Health Conditions

Across

- 4. an itchy rash that becomes vesicular within days and then scabs. Usually occurs with children
- 9. highly contagious, characterized by rash, red, watery eyes, high fever and can develop ear infections, pneumonia, etc.
- 10. commonly known as a cold sore, a recurrent infection
- 12. this virus causes cold sores
- 13. a disease caused by bacteria that can attack any part of your body but usually attacks the lungs
- 14. highly communicable, typically in children with spasms of severe coughing and cough induced vomiting

15. burning, tingling, slight swelling before lesion appearance

16. most common human virus, causes mono, transmitted orally or by droplet

Down

- 1. this liver disease can affect anyone, spread by oral/fecal route
- 2. most common congenital infection, symptoms vary but usually virus remains dormant, but alive until immune system is weak
- 3. this virus that causes sexually transmitted diseases (STD) or STI
- 5. co-infection with Hep B or super-infection. Transmission and vaccine similar to Hepatitis B.

6. called non A non B , transmitted like A. Found where sewage disposal is inadequate. May be fatal especially to pregnant women.

7. herpes simplex infection of the fingers

8. a recurrent latent virus eruption in adults, occurs on one side of the body.

11. infection of salivary glands. Fever, headache, muscle aches, swelling of the glands close to the jaw