

Do you Compute?

Across

3. What you use to access the World Wide Web
5. The primary display screen
7. External storage device
10. The worldwide network
13. Device where information is stored
16. Set of data held in a computer
17. Small, clickable picture that opens programs
19. Physical pieces of a computer
20. Restart your computer
23. A program or document that is transferred from one computer to another
25. Indicator used to show the current position
26. Also known as the microprocessor or processor

27. Unwanted advertisement or information sent to your email
28. _____ helps different computers connect and communicate together
29. Provides the computer with step-by-step instructions to perform a task
30. A serious computer failure

Down

1. Application that captures, displays and manipulates data arranged in rows and columns
2. Facebook, Twitter, Instagram are classified as _____
4. Device that executes a program
6. To go from one page to another on the Web

8. _____ is the attempt to obtain sensitive information
9. WWW
11. Device used for typing
12. No software can be run on the computer without this
14. This helps you organize your files
15. You store information in a _____
18. The hand held device that helps you control the pointer
21. A computer program used for preparing documents and letters
22. Program that is designed to harm your computer
24. A wireless network connection