

Name: _____

Ecology Crossword By Sarah Schnitger

Across

3. The relationship between a strangler fig and a butterfly drinking from the fruit is called what

8. An organism that serves as the starting place for other life to thrive is called the

10. The Tyrannosaurus Rex is an example of this

12. Humans are a common example of this

13. A community of organisms living and interacting with abiotic components of the environment put together as a whole

14. An organism that eats only plants

15. A symbiotic relationship in which both organisms involved benefit

Down

1. Only plants can be

2. The natural home/environment of an organism

4. Fungi, worms, and some insects are examples of these

5. All the ecosystems in the world together

6. An example of one of these is grass to mouse to cat to coyote

7. The study of home

9. The first species to colonize or inhabit damaged ecosystems is called _____

11. A coyote and a bear want the same group of rabbits