

Name: _____

Exam Review: Pregnancy Edition

Across

- 4. A disorder in pregnancy marked by persistently elevated blood pressure and proteinuria after 20 weeks gestation.
- 5. A medication used to slow contractions and cervical change in order to delay delivery.
- 6. The best maternal position in response to fetal stress.
- 8. The premature separation of a normally implanted placenta.

- 11. A form of fetal assessment to aid in detecting chromosomal abnormalities is called:

_____ sampling.

- 12. Preeclampsia with grand mal seizures.

Down

- 1. A condition of persistent vomiting, ketonuria and weight loss.
- 2. Treatment for a woman post molar pregnancy, who's HCG levels have plateaued or increased.

- 3. Treatment for a woman with placenta previa.

- 7. 1 ml of blood weighs approximately 1 _____.

- 9. The majority of spontaneous abortions in the 1st trimester are due to _____ abnormalities.

- 10. The delay of delivery with terbutaline, to buy time for the lungs to "ripen" when a fetus is viable but not yet 34 weeks gestation.