

Fiction vocabulary

Across

3. a picture that shows details from the text
4. a problem that the characters have
7. to retell in your own words
9. the lesson or message that the author of a story or poem wants to share
10. traditional story from a certain place that gives reasons for how something works or how it was created

11. made up story that teaches a lesson or moral: the main characters are animals

12. point of view in which the narrator is a character in the story and uses the pronoun I

13. person who tells the story

15. writing that tells about the real world with facts about people, places, events and things

Down

1. where and when the story takes place

2. a story from long ago that has been repeated for many years

5. a person, an animal, or an object that takes part in the action of a story

6. writing about made up people

8. point of view in which the narrator is not a character in the story and uses the pronouns (he, she, they)

14. series of events in a story that includes the characters' actions, a conflict, and a resolution