

Figurative Language

Across

- 1. Using figurative language to represent objects, actions, and ideas in such a way that it appeals to our physical senses.
- 3. "My grandmother is as old as the hills" is an example of this type of figurative language.
- 10. The author's underlying message in a piece of literature.
- 13. device often used in drama to reveal the innermost thoughts of a character when he is alone on stage
- 15. a character who contrasts with another character - usually the protagonist- to highlight particular qualities of the other character
- 17. This literary device occurs when incongruity appears between expectations of something to happen, and what actually happens instead.
- 18. "Open secret" is an example of this type of figurative language.

- 19. "The wind whispered through dry grass" is an example of what type of figurative language?
- Down
- 2. a setting, object, character, or event in a story that carries more than the literal meaning and therefore represents something significant to understanding the meaning of a work of literature
 - 4. A literary device in which a writer gives an advance hint of what is to come later in the story
 - 5. A comparison between two unlike things using like or as
 - 6. Storytellers use this irony as a useful plot device for creating situations in which the audience knows more about the situations, the causes of conflicts, and their resolutions before the leading characters or actors
 - 7. A comparison between two unlike things

- 8. occurs when a speaker speaks something contradictory to what he intends to say
- 9. "His soul swooned slowly as he heard the snow falling" is an example of what type of figurative language?
- 11. a statement that appears to be self-contradictory or silly, but which may include a latent truth.
- 12. The author's attitude towards his subject
- 14. A reference to a person, place, thing or idea of historical, cultural, literary or political significance
- 16. The emotional response a piece of literature creates in the reader.