

Name: _____

Date: _____

Final Exam Crossword

Across

4. The most stationary end of the muscle, also called a head

9. Helps control breathing; conducts impulses to and from the cerebellum, midbrain, and medulla.

11. Large projection, only in the femur

12. What cells form the myelin sheath around axons?

13. What are branched, thick extensions, coming directly off of the cell body

14. A shallow depression

15. Where does the axon join the cell body?

16. Subcutaneous layer that is located below the skin and is a major storage site for adipose tissue

Down

1. What muscle acts in opposition to an agonist?

2. Cortex composed of gray matter and is located in the cerebrum

3. Contains no nerve cells

5. Nervous system function that controls the body's response while at rest

6. Name the chemical that is stored in the synaptic vesicles

7. Most superior section of the brain stem

8. Which is NOT a major function of the Medulla Oblongata: a) controls heart rate b) registers pain c) sneezing d) registers pain

10. What is the longest cranial nerve?

Word Bank

TROCHANTER

VAGUS

HYPODERMIS

registers pain

ANTAGONIST

SCHWANN

PARASYMPATHETIC

NEUROTRANSMITTER

AVASCULAR

ORIGIN

PONS

CORTEX

AXONHILLOCK

DENDRITES

FOSSA

MIDBRAIN