

Name: _____

Date: _____

Finance Vocabulary

Across

3. Used to show that two ratios expressed in fractional form are equal.

6. Paid twice a month.

8. A form of periodic payment from an employer to an employee.

11. The cost per one item.

13. Similar to a ratio but the two numbers being compared will have different units.

14. This money is deducted from your pay and is used to pay workers who become unemployed.

15. The rate which a trader would buy an amount of a foreign currency.

16. Being paid every two weeks.

18. Deductions collected by the government and used in funding many of the government services.

19. The amount of income used to calculate an individual's or a company's income tax due.

Down

1. A percent of the sale price paid to the person who makes the sale.

2. The total amount earned before deductions.

4. The rate at which a bank is willing to sell foreign currency.

5. Amounts taken off your gross pay.

7. A tax on sales or on the receipts from sales.

9. The difference between the amount a dealer sells a product for and the amount he or she paid for it.

10. Income left after all payroll deductions have been taken from your paycheck (take home pay).

12. The minimum amount a worker must be paid an hour.

17. A comparison between two numbers (the numbers must have same units).

20. This money is collected by the government and is used to provide income for workers after they retire.