

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Finding an Apartment

Across

2. The payment, usually monthly, that the tenant pays to the landlord.
4. A legal document signed by both the tenant and the landlord that contains the terms of the agreement
7. A sum of money, usually equal to one month's rent, held by the landlord to cover any damage to the apartment caused by a tenant.
8. The amount of time required in advance if either the landlord or the tenant wishes to discontinue the rental agreement. This courtesy allows both parties time to make other arrangements.
10. The length of a rental agreement, usually a period of one year.

Down

1. Services needed to make a house or apartment functional, such as hot water, electricity, natural gas, and cable and Internet service.
3. The company or individual who owns an apartment.
5. One individual apartment. A large apartment building may contain 20 or more units.
6. The location of your apartment is an important safety consideration and also determines your ease of getting to work, buying groceries, and so on.
9. The person renting the apartment.