

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Forms of Government

Across

3. A form of government where all property is publicly owned and everyone has a equal economic status.
4. A state where supreme power lies within the people and their elected officials.
5. A form of government where the power is with the people, the people elect a president.
6. A form of government where a dictator has supreme power.
8. A form of government where a ruler inherits the power through a family line they serve till death or until they give up their throne.

9. A form of government where one person has supreme power

10. A form of government where the power is with a single group of people

Down

1. Which form of government lies the power in the people?
2. A form of power where the power is inherited and the ruler has supreme power
7. A form of government where the production, distribution, and exchange is owned by the community.