

Foundation FPALS01 VER.1

Across

1. Holding down a mouse button and moving the mouse.
6. Sets of instructions (programs) that 'tell' a computer what to do.
7. Is the results of the processed of data and should be useful and meaningful.
9. Resting the cursor on the object and then selecting the object by clicking the left button once.
10. The keyboard input is also known as what because of the first six letters on the first row of keys.

Down

2. Combination of menu bar and toolbar used in Office 2016.
3. Most mice have a wheel between the two buttons tha is used to scroll up and down in a document on the screen.
4. Keeps a permanent record of programs and data.
5. Unprocessed items. This can include text, numbers, images, audio and video
8. A small picture which represents a program or 'place' on the computer.