

Fruit, Vegetables and Herbs

Across

4. This is like broccoli but white.
6. They are a green, roundish juicy fruit which begins with 'p'. There are over 3000 types all over the world and they are grown on trees in orchards.
7. This herb is the same word as what a clock measures, but spelt differently.
9. They are like little green trees although they can be other colours, and not many people like it.
11. This purple vegetable is sometimes used to make dye. They are very good for you.

Down

1. A vegetable that grows underground. It is sometimes called a spud.
2. This fruit is yellow with spiky green leaves on top.
3. This fruit is small, round and usually bright red. You can grow them at home.
5. They are small green 5mm balls that you usually eat with other things.
8. It is like a carrot but creamy in colour and it has a different taste.
10. This leafy green vegetable grows on the ground and is slightly similar to lettuce but it is less popular.