

Name: _____

Garden Terms

Across

1. your skin absorbs this from sunlight
3. bulbs we "planted" on rocks
5. when leaves turn green they makes this
14. a potato is what kind of plant?
15. chlorophyll is chemically similar to this essential protein
17. sticking pieces of plant in soil is propagation by what method?
18. What planting zone do we live in?
20. What is the term for making new plants?
21. a true plant that will produce a true seed

22. sprouts require no light or _____

23. cutting roots apart for more plants is propagation by what?
24. seeds we planted an inch deep in dirt

Down

2. a seed, grain, nut, or bean that has just begun the germination process
4. medicinal plant beneficial for burns and skin irritations
6. A tiny edible plant packed with nutrients
7. vegetables are high in _____

8. "consider the _____ of the field, how they grow"
9. using kitchen and yard scraps to make soil
10. a cross between two different varieties of a plant
11. mental benefit of gardening is that it reduces what?
12. what is a neutral soil PH?
13. dry contents of compost are referred to as what "color?"
16. vegetables are low in _____
19. watery contents of compost are know as what "color?"