

Name: _____

Date: _____

Gynecology

- |  |                  |
|--|------------------|
| 1. Absence or cessation of the menstrual period                                  | A. dysplasia     |
| 2. examination of the cervix using a colposcope                                  | B. dyspareunia   |
| 3. pain in the vagina or pelvis experienced by a woman during sexual intercourse | C. Risk factor   |
| 4. the lower narrow end of the uterus that opens into the vagina                 | D. Amenorrhea    |
| 5. pain associated with the menstrual period                                     | E. dysmenorrhea  |
| 6. the growth of abnormal cells  | F. perimenopause |
| 7. the permanent cessation of menstruation                                       | G. perineum      |
| 8. excessive bleeding during a menstrual period                                  | H. menorrhagia   |
| 9. bleeding between menstrual periods  | I. metrorrhagia  |
| 10. before the onset of menopause  | J. colposcopy    |
| 11. the external region between the vaginal orifice and the anus in a female     | K. menopause     |
| 12. anything that increases an individuals chance of developing a disease        | L. cervix        |