

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Health

Across

1. What is it called when a network of cells, tissues, organs, and chemicals fight pathogens?
3. What is a disease that is spread from 1 living thing to another through the environment?
7. A reaction to tissue damage caused by an injury or infection.
9. A preparation of dead or weakened pathogen that are introduced into the body to stimulate an immune response.

12. Single-celled microorganisms.

13. What is a white blood cell that attacks invading pathogens?
14. What do you get when pathogens enter the body, multiply, and damage body cells?

Down

2. A form of genetic material that invades living cells to reproduce.
4. What is a protein that acts against a specific antigen?

5. A substance that kills cells or interferes with their functions.

6. What is an organism that carries and transmits pathogens to humans or other animals?

8. Specialized white blood cells that provide the body with immunity.

10. A substance that is capable of triggering an immune system response.

11. What is an organism that causes disease?